

Signs
for education

The education sector's favourite signs

Westminster City School, University of Chester, Milton Keynes Academy, Merton College, Pimlico Academy, Birmingham University, Rednock School, Stoke Newington School, Hackney City Academy...

These forward-thinking establishments, and many others like them, all have one thing in common: they chose us for their signage.

Here are five good reasons for you to do the same:

One

We complement your style

We deliver stunning signs that enhance your buildings rather than clutter them. Whether you want to display useful information, make a statement about your school or make it easier for visitors to find their way, signs are an opportunity to capture the essence of your school, promote the brand and present it in its most attractive light.

"Signage plays a vital role within our Academy. Cobal has designed, produced and installed to an excellent standard and are very customer-focused."

Alan Gilbert, facilities manager, Petchey Academy

Two

We care about service

While it's true that our purpose in life is to give you excellent signs, we are also passionate about giving you excellent personal service. Designing and manufacturing is just one part of what we do; first and foremost we are consultants with an aim to advise you and help you to make decisions about your sign strategy and the most suitable materials. We will assign a project manager to ensure your project runs smoothly from its inception to satisfactory completion.

"The whole service on this project was really good and I was particularly pleased with the way the installation went, it was problem-free and the installation team were excellent."

Roy Highfield, head of capital programme, University of Birmingham

Three

We give you exactly what you want

We pride ourselves on our ability to take your vision and ideas and make them real. To give you complete freedom of choice and expression, we work with all materials to create a vast range of signs from main entrance monoliths to door signs with changeable information, all to suit your budget. If the solution to your problem doesn't already exist, we'll create it for you.

"From the clear, glazed panels in every classroom, to the colour-coded interior decoration and the crisp, sharp signs, the academy boasts the features of a 21st century working environment."

Mark Malcolm, vice principal, The City Academy, Hackney

Four

We know what we're doing

We have well over 25 years' experience in the signage industry. As well as designing, manufacturing and installing your signs, we can offer you expert advice on which signs to use and how to use them in the best possible way.

"Cobal won the tender for the complete re-signing of our Stratford campus. This involved raising the profile of our new brand as well as extensive internal and external wayfinding. I have been most impressed by Cobal's thorough attention to detail, their practical advice and 'can do' attitude, which was displayed by their project management and installation teams. Their flexibility in working around two different main contractors on site was most helpful."

Peter Thompson, head of projects, University of East London

Five

We understand your environment

Our extensive experience in the education sector has taught us a thing or two about what works and what doesn't work. Over the years we have developed and customised signs to ensure they withstand the wear and tear of a school environment. We know that schools want a sign system that is stylish and practical, offers good value for money and is easy to manage on an ongoing basis.

"Having just opened a state of the art new school we were looking for signage which complemented the buildings and Cobal have produced an outstanding range of sign options. Their level of service has been excellent and we are delighted."

Dr P K Hazlewood, headteacher, St John's Marlborough
